DEVELOPING CHILD'S INTEREST IN STUDYING & DOING HOMEWORK

Studies and homework are an attempt to help a child grasp the complexities of concepts and subjects in an easy and a structured manner. It is therefore critical that the student develops an interest in the same. The following points would help the parents (and tutors) in this endeavor:

- ❖ Help your child make friends with books early in life even if it means that occasionally you need to read their books with them.
- ❖ Regular visit to libraries also helps in making your child friends with books.
- ❖ Do not do the homework for them; show them how to do it themselves. It gives them a sense of achievement when they do home assignments on their own.
- ❖ Verbal rewards and appreciation for small achievements are great motivators; reward your child often.
- ❖ Time management is essential while doing homework. For instance ensure that home work time does not overlap with your child's time to play.
- ❖ Course books can be fun too, if the child is able to connect the contents in them to day to day life. Help him do that whenever you have time.
- ❖ Put yourself in their shoes to understand them better; do not forget to remove your own shoes first.
- ❖ Ensure a happy atmosphere at home and encourage discussions.

Vienova makes virtual delivery of services to customers a reality by making extensive use of cutting edge technology - a proprietary web enabled platform provides simultaneous use of multiple communication channels such as Audio, Video, Text and Whiteboard, besides other features. Vienova provides services to consumers spanning North America, Europe and in many other countries across the world.

To get the best out of Vienova, here are a few points you might like to know as a student/consumer:

- ❖ Rate tutors as per what you think they deserve- do not be too liberal or too harsh. We take ratings very seriously and they directly impact our tutors. Give a 3* rating only if you think tutor's style is acceptable, a 4* if you think tutor is above average and a 5* if you think the tutor is amongst the best in the world.
- ❖ In case your child is not comfortable with a particular tutor's style, though typically that wouldn't be the case, please request for a change in tutor through customercare@vienova.com.
- ❖ As your child gets comfortable with one subject, see which are the other areas where he/she needs help, but do not unnecessarily push him/her to take tuitions for subjects which he/she doesn't want to.
- ❖ Please do not be surprised or react if you see the tutors attempting to make the child less and less dependent on tuitions with every passing year.

MAKING MATH, PHYSICS, CHEMISTRY HOMEWORK INTERESTING

Various generalized ways to develop a child's interest in studying and doing homework have been discussed in other articles. This article focuses on using online-tutoring as a methodology to make the homework interesting.

Online tutoring is an extremely impactful medium and makes any study-work interesting because:

- ❖ It enables one-on-one interaction, which allows the tutor to understand in depth the individual needs of a child.
- ❖ The online sessions are highly interactive and fun filled where the child has equal participation.
- ❖ The online tutors are far cheaper than in-person tutors.
- ❖ With online tutors, students can address their study problems on a regular basis. A subject looks difficult when problems/ confusions are not addressed on time.
- ❖ Online tutoring can be obtained in the comfortable environment of a student's home. Also, students have the flexibility of scheduling the session at any time.
- ❖ Parents can easily keep track of their ward's development with online tutoring.
- ❖ Students get other online benefits like free downloading, playing quizzes and games.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

"Life is the greatest classroom where learning never ends". It is the dream and endeavor of every parent to guide his/her child along a path, which will help the child to bloom into a responsible, happy and a knowledgeable person. For developing a powerful and effective personality one has to remember that

- ❖ Personality development should be the primary aim of education.
- ❖ Inquisitiveness / Curiosity. thy name is kid... Satisfy it . If your child's query is addressed at earliest, it keeps his/her interest in the activity intact.
- ❖ Knowledge is bliss .let your child partake in reading newspapers and watching informative serials on television.
- ❖ Provide books according to the children's interest in order to inculcate the habit of reading in them. To encourage your child to use books, make them available at the right place, at right time, for example, story books on the bedside, quiz /puzzle books in the play room along with toys.
- ❖ School and teachers both are as precious to your child as is his/ her family. Respect your child's sentiments. Talk to them about their happy moments spent in school. That will also give them an opportunity to share their problems with you.
- ❖ Provide your child with the means to acquire correct information like dictionaries and encyclopedia.
- ❖ Homework is to further enhance the knowledge. Let the child enjoy it. No work done under pressure or force can have a lasting effect ,so is the case with home work.
- ❖ Reward the good work done and accentuate the positive....it motivates to perform better.
- ❖ Never condemn a child for wrong; instead, explain the harmful effects of the action. Fear often leads to lies.
- ❖ Instill in the child skills like time management during his/ her early years. Every student has 24 hours in a day but what sets apart two students is their time management skills.
- ❖ Encourage kids to participate in school activities.
- ❖ Show trust and faith in your children, shower them with lots of love and let them bloom in this big wonderful world. Your positive attitude will result into their developing a positive personality.
